Lakisha Gonzalez M.S.W (Social Worker)

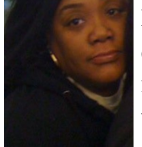

With a Masters in Social Work and as a previous probation officer, Lakisha completed an independent study on gang violence in an inner city which makes her insight and experiences a great source of information and how she continues to utilize her knowledge to reach out to her community in powerful ways.

Officer Jason Werley (Law Enforcement Officer)

Jason Werley is a veteran officer within the Northampton County Department of corrections. With nearly one decade of public service experience, Officer Werley has mastered a full understanding of street gangs and domestic terrorism as a direct result of his passion to end violence.

Madeline Valenzuela (Survivor)

Madeline is a survivor of gang violence who is determined to be the voice for those who have none. Her commentary is filled with unimaginable struggles, devastating violence, and self destructive behaviors that ultimately led to her desire to be an active part in her community to help stop violence.

John Siptroth (Legislator)

As a Stroudsburg High school graduate, legislator John Siptroth is a lifelong member of the community. John has always made family, faith and community his top priorities.

Kevin Crain (Healthcare Personnel)

The Director of Security and Safety for one of Monroe County's local hospitals speaks out about domestic, sexual and gang impacts on hospitals and how he plans to ensure the safety of all persons in the healthcare setting.

* Plus commentary and discussion from Monroe County's Gang Intelligence Task Force, State Representative Mario Scavello, Pennsylvania State Police Tactical Intelligence Unit & more!

Conference proceeds will benefit victims and survivors of domestic abuse and sexual assault.
